NAVY SHIPS BLOW UP 200-650 DEAD

Munitions Explosion Wrecks Theater

Several hundred persons were believed dead and more than 1000 injured today as a result of a terrific ship blast at the Naval Ammunition Depot which tore to pieces the little town of Port Chicago, Cal., a mile and a half away, and blasted in the wall of this theater, where 195 patrons were watching a war film replete with bombing scenes. Only minor injuries were reported by the audience.

Nazi Lines Crumble Before Reds, Yanks

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, July 18 (AP) —

There is every reason to believe in Moscow today the Red army is ready to hurl the greatest offensive in Russia's three years of war against the staggering Germans—an offensive which may throw the whole front into violent activity from the far north to the south.

(Working of the dispatch through censorship suggested Red armies south of the Pripyat Marshes in old Poland may indeed have struck toward the great European rail center of Lwow, as the Germans have reported for four days. Other Russian groups may have lunged toward the Galati Gap in Romania between the Carpathians and the Danube.

(The German radio said fierce fighting flared all along the Tarnopol-Luck-Kowel front.)

NAZI FLIGHT DESPERATE

With their backs against the East Prussian border, besides giving ground swiftly in the middle Baltics and between Brest-Litovsk and Bialystok in the direction of Warsaw and the River Bug, the Germans are in their most desperate situation of the war.

Unmistakable signs pointed to a great new undertaking by Marshal Stalin and his general staff.

The Suwalki triangle country which the Germans formally attached to East Prussia now is feeling the weight of Russian long range artillery northwest of Grodno, and other Red troops have advanced west and south of that newly-captured stronghold.

"The borders of East Prussia are just ahead," wrote Izvestia's correspondent.

ON ROAD TO WARSAW

With a score of villages in their hands on the western side of the Nieman on their bridgehead west of Grodno, the Russians were driving toward Eydumha, border city of East Prussia proper 45 miles away.

The Soviet communique reported a Red spearhead, striking west toward Warsaw in gains of up to 40 miles, had overrun the crossroads town of Vydomha, 16 miles north of Brest Litovsk.

(A German broadcast also reported fierce fighting on the Finnish front with the Russians attacking positions at Vuossalmi, northeast of Lake Ladoga, and in the Pitkanen sector, the radio report declaring more than 600 Russians had been killed.)

Berlin Says F.D. to Visit Rome, Confer With Pope

By the Associated Press

The Berlin radio, which frequently broadcasts reports in attempts to glean information, said today President Roosevelt soon would visit Rome and that arrangements already had been made for his trip by his Vatican representative, Myron C. Taylor.

There was nothing from any other source to indicate the German report had any basis of truth.

Text of the broadcast, carried under a Stockholm dateline: "A Roosevelt visit to Rome is impending, as learned from American circles in Rome. Today, Roosevelt's representative with the Vatican, has already been charged with making appropriate arrangements with the Vatican."

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS,

July 18 (AP) — German lines guarding St. Lo on the east crumbled suddenly today, and American troops surged into the outskirts of the rubbled junction town against light opposition, a front dispatch declared this afternoon.

"The Germans are in retreat," said Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead.

The doughboys battered forward again after they had pulled back in darkness early this morning to positions just outside the suburb of St. Croix on the eastern edge of St. Lo, in the face of fierce German counterattacks. The fortress town had become a "Normandy Cassino" under storm of battle.

Other doughboys hit forward to within 200 yards of the road leading westward to Periers, raking it with artillery fire and heightening the squeeze pressure on St. Lo, junction-bastion of the central front.

YANKS WIN VITAL ROAD

British troops on the Allied right flank pushed forward again today, strengthening the hold on their broadened Odon salient southwest of Caen, and front reports said the Germans had halted their counterattacks seeking a weak spot in British defenses.

The Germans battled stubbornly to hold their rail line from St. Lo to Periers and Lessay on the American sector, and their counterattacks sent the bloody struggle for St. Lo into its eighth day. A siege as difficult as that for Casino appeared likely.

The punch to within 200 yards of the lateral road between St. Lo and Periers knocked it out for German use, with artillery drum-fire halting any traffic. The Nazis counterattacked futilely.

Supreme headquarters declared the Allies had gained commanding ground all along the front, including advances in the area of Lessay.

The heaviest battle since the landings in Normandy was taking place in the Caen sector where the British Second Army, striking out in several directions, shoved down the road to Villers-Bocage and bypassed Evrecy, which the supreme command said had been abandoned by both sides because it is in low territory.

TERRIFIC AIR ATTACK

Planes of the Allied air forces piled up 2000 additional flights in a half-day of good flying weather yesterday, and this morning huge fleets of bombers and fighters thundered continuously across the channel in what looked like the biggest battle support effort since D-Day. The weather gave the air forces the chance to provide Gen. Montgomery with the support needed for a wholesale attack.

The British pushed forward once more in the Caen sector at dawn after a night in which Allied artillery continued to thunder. The long awaited summer weather arrived and huge clouds of dust rose as tanks and big guns wheeled in to battle.

The British drive down the road to Villers-Bocage, 15 miles southwest of Caen, battered crumbling Nazi lines in the Vendes and Noyers sector and half a mile southeast of Evrecy. Other furious battles raged all the way on the Orne river to Caen.

2 Yank Armies Gain in Italy

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

ROME, July 18 (INS)—American troops of the Allied Fifth Army in Italy today outflanked the strategic west coast port of Livorno (Leghorn) by moving up to the rear of the port on the east. The Germans resisted bitterly. Heavy fighting was in progress.

Troops of the Eighth Army on the east coast seriously threatened the port of Ancona. Near the coast the Yanks advanced a mile north of Pogogna and pushed to within half a mile of Fregula, east and north of Livorno, after bypassing Traipalle.

War correspondents described the highway leading to Livorno as a road of carnage. The Nazis even fired on stretcher bearers. The few miles now separating the Americans from Livorno were heavily mined and laden with snaky traps.

"The fact has been stressed that Roosevelt, in view of the U. S. A. Catholics, whose votes will be of decisive importance in the presidential elections, lays rather great stress on being received by the head of the Catholic church.

"The Pope is said to agree with the Roosevelt visit, because thus he will be furnished an opportunity to outline to the U. S. A. President his concern regarding the Bolshevization of Italy and the surrender of Poland to the Soviets."

In his letter to Sen. Jackson, permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention, on the renomination of Vice President Wallace, President Roosevelt said he was writing his letter "because I expect to be away from Washington for the next few days."

RUSSIA—Red Army troops today were closing on the Nazi strongholds of (1) Bialystok and (2) Brest Litovsk... after new gains which included the capture of Svisloch and Shereshev. Reds also seized Sebezh and Osveja in the north... and extended their beachhead on the west bank of the Nieman river near Olita.

Japs Fire Tojo As Army Chief

NEW YORK, July 18 (INS)—Radio Tokyo announced today that "Gen. Hideki Tojo" had been "relieved" of his post as chief of the Japanese army general staff. The Japanese broadcast referred to Tojo only as "general" and made no reference to him as "premier."

The Japanese radio broadcast said:

"It has just been announced that Gen. Yoshihiro Umezu, commander-in-chief of the Kwangtung army, has been appointed chief of the general staff in succession to Gen. Tojo, who has been relieved of his current posts."

Umezu was also Japanese ambassador to occupied Manchuria.

Gen. Otozo Yamada, inspector-general of military education, has been named commander-in-chief of the Kwangtung army, and will serve currently as ambassador to Manchuria, radio Tokyo added.

The appointment of Umezu had been blamed to Japanese-controlled newspapers in East Asia by the Domei agency.

According to Japanese reports, the papers had been standing by for several hours awaiting an announcement of "important personnel changes in the army."

Tojo, in special broadcast earlier in the day, admitted that "Japan has come to face an unprecedented great national crisis."

Japs to Evacuate 400,000 Children

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—The Tokyo radio said in a broadcast reported today by U. S. monitors that the Japanese government has approved a plan for the mass decentralization of school children, involving evacuation of 400,000 in 13 cities in the Tokyo-Yokohama-Osaka-Kobe, Nagoya and northern Kyushu districts.

On July 12 the Jap Domei agency said "already approximately 30,000 school children" had been removed from Tokyo to rural districts.

Eden Bans Secret Robot Session

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—Flying bombs fell on London and southern England today and Foreign Secretary Eden told Commons that the war cabinet had ruled out a secret session on the attacks.

House members were assured monthly totals of bombing casualties would be published, but were told figures for robot and regular bombs would not be separated because this "would tell the enemy too much."

U. S. Fliers Lash Robot Factories

By JOSEPH THOMAS

LONDON, July 18 (INS)—More than 1000 U. S. Fortresses and fighters struck German experimental laboratories producing robot bomb mechanisms today in attacks against Penneumunds and Zinnawitz on the Baltic.

The attack on Penneumunde was the first in daylight by American heavyweights.

First attack against Penneumunde was carried out by the RAF after British secret agents determined the Nazis were working on devices such as the pilotless craft.

The Nazi laboratories were camouflaged in a woods covering four and one-half square miles. British fliers during the night smashed at Berlin, coastal areas of France and inland targets, presumably robot launching sites.

Britain Shifts Seamen to Army

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—The British war cabinet has authorized the Army to draft substantial numbers of Royal Navy personnel to replenish invasion-depleted land units, it was announced today.

Near Scene of Big Explosion

PORT CHICAGO, Cal., July 18 (AP)—Two Navy ammunition ships, exploding late last night with earth-shaking roars, killed from 200 to 650 men, injured hundreds of others, leveled the Port Chicago depot dock area, and inflicted immense damage in war-booming Port Chicago, 35 miles from San Francisco.

One medium-sized cargo vessel being loaded went up with a thundering roar. Seconds later a larger ship, moored nearby, was blown to bits when its explosives were set off. The ground shook for miles around, and what one observer a mile away saw as a "mile-high sky-rocket" of flame leaped into the night air.

Two small Coast Guard vessels also were sunk in the explosion-tormented waters of Suisun bay, which branches east from San Francisco bay.

The Navy's official statement said "at least 200 to 250 Navy personnel and nine officers" were missing and presumed lost, but this figure did not account for civilian seamen aboard the destroyed ships.

FELT 30 MILES AWAY

Previously a Navy commander had estimated the dead at 650. Sheriff J. R. Thornton of Solano County figured the toll at 300 dead and the injured at 1000.

The explosion was felt within a radius of at least 50 miles. It wrecked the town of Port Chicago, which has a wartime boom population of about 1000; destroyed communications and power facilities and broke windows 20 and 30 miles away.

One man a mile away was blown 100 feet.

The explosion, of undetermined origin, showered parts of the ship's superstructure at least a mile. One 300-pound piece of steel fell in the main street of Port Chicago a mile from the naval depot.

AMID MAD CHAOS

For a time Port Chicago was a confused, chaotic scene of dying and other injured crying in the darkness.

Medical aid was rushed from neighboring communities and the Mare Island Navy Yard, 14 miles away. The Red Cross speeded cots and blood plasma. Port Chicago was ordered evacuated.

The injured were rushed to jammed hospitals at Martinez, 10 miles distant, in Army truck, ambulances, taxicabs and civilian autos.

Hospital attendants lost count of the injured.

Live ammunition floating in the oil-slicked waters presented an additional hazard in the port area. Navy craft stood by as picket boats to keep water traffic away.

A Navy guard was placed around the disaster area shortly after the blast. Two regiments of soldiers were brought in from San Francisco to cordon off the area and serve as special police.

FBI AIDS IN PROBE

Naval intelligence officers studying the cause of the explosion were joined by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

Most of Port Chicago's homes were knocked askew. The Red Cross said 150 to 200 houses were made uninhabitable, and plans were being made to feed 1000 to 1500 persons in Martinez because of a lack of cooking gas in the port.

Glass and debris littered Port Chicago streets.

Men, women and children walked about the main section

Halifax Disaster 27 Years Ago

The Port Chicago disaster today brought back unforgettable memories to New Englanders of the munitions explosion Dec. 6, 1917, in Halifax harbor.

On that day the freighter Monte Blane was edging its way into Halifax harbor with a cargo of 3000 tons of TNT for the war against Germany.

Moving into convoy was freighter Ioma. The two ships collided. The TNT exploded 17 minutes later.

When the terrific blast died down, more than 1000 persons lay dead, 4000 were injured, 1600 buildings were destroyed, 1200 more damaged and nearly one-third of the city—325 acres—was laid bare. Damage was estimated at $30,000,000, and more than 25,000 were homeless.

Gang Shot Kills Pepper Martin

Aftermath of a dice argument, Pepper Martin, 44, former boxer, ex-convict and gambler, was slain in gangland fashion today in the Back Bay, just a short distance from his Huntington ave. home.

The stocky little fighter, well known to New England rings a score of years ago, was found slumped at the wheel of an automobile parked outside the Town Taxo Co. garage in Ipswich st.

A bullet, fired at close range, had pierced his body, not far from the heart.

The victim was found at dawn, just as the dice game he had left a few hours earlier, was breaking up. He was rushed to City Hospital but pronounced dead on arrival.

First clue to his identity came from cards in his pocket, which bore high fighting name of Pepper Martin. His right name is Yapan Alajajian.

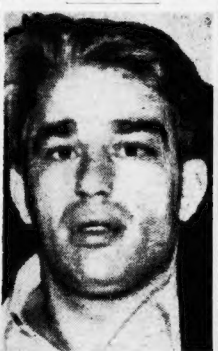

Homicide inspectors moved swiftly and within two hours had rounded up six persons for questioning, one of them one of the best known lightweight boxers in New England.

The latter, police said, took over operation of the dice game in a near-by garage after Martin had engaged in a violent quarrel with another player and left the building to "cool off."

Early in their questioning, police quizzed Louis Baiona of Acton st.,

South End, who authorities said was one of the sportsmen participating in the game and in whose

Coast Blast Horror Told

PITTSBURGH, Cal., July 18 (INS)—It is six and a half hours since I went to my knees under the impact that marked one of the nation's great disasters. Six and a half hours since I first saw buildings careen crazily, windows explode outward, and men, women and children dash from their wobbling homes, screaming.

"It's an earthquake," it is down now. The sorry parade of the dead and injured still moves into town from Port Chicago, five miles west.

I was just stepping off a train to visit my friend Dr. Sam L. Bernstein, in Pittsburgh, when the blast rocked the town. I raced through streets littered deep with glass.

People ran past me, faces streaming blood. The town was pitch black. I caught their frightened faces in the slices of light from hand torches.

I finally panted to the doctor's office. There were the first of the injured. Dr. Bernstein was picking glass out of their faces, hands and arms.

Other wounded were carried in. Their eyes were dazed. Many mumbled of the "earthquake."

With Dr. Bernstein, I went to the Pittsburgh Junior High School where the main floor was equipped by the Office of Civilian Defense for Pacific wartime emergencies.

One of the wounded said the disaster scene looked as if it had been lifted by a cyclone and then pounded back in place.

The houses that still stood in Port Chicago, he said, leaned crazily. The town was a place of collective grief, with injured persons running through glass and debris looking for relatives.

Forty sailors were brought into the high school from the explosion scene, most of them cut by flying debris. They had retired to their dormitory when the double explosion smashed at the town. One of them said:

"The ground shook and rocked—it seemed to lift—then the building pancaked down on us."

Into the high school came children crying for parents who were being treated in other towns—in nearby Concord and Martinez.

Through the night the wounded kept hobbling in. Homes were thrown open as emergency wards. Many who came for treatment said Route 24, the San Joachim river road, looked like a retreat from battle, with the civilian wounded heading for refuge in rattling cars and bicycle.

Boom for Byrnes Gains As F. D. Favors Wallace

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

CHICAGO, July 18 (INS)—War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes was gaining ground today in the wide-open race for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination after President Roosevelt expressed a preference for incumbent Henry A. Wallace, but urged the convention to make its own choice.

READS F. D.'S LETTER—Sen. Samuel Jackson (left), permanent convention chairman, reads President Roosevelt's letter at a Chicago press conference at which the Indiana salon divulged that the Chief Executive would vote for renomination of Henry A. Wallace for vice president . . . if he were a delegate . . . but that he would leave it up to the convention itself to make a choice.

Associated Press Wirephoto

Byrnes is one of the five men "acceptable" to Mr. Roosevelt as a running-mate. The others are Wallace, Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, Circuit Judge Sherman Minton of Indiana and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas of Connecticut.

Th President gently "blessed" Wallace in a letter to Sen. Samuel D. Jackson of Indiana, who will be permanent chairman of the convention. After praising Wallace's services in the government, the President said "I personally would vote for his (Wallace's) renomination if I were a delegate to the convention."

UP TO CONVENTION

But then the President added: "At the same time I do not wish to appear in any way as dictating to the convention. Obviously the convention must do the deciding. And it should—and I am sure it will—give great consideration to the pros and cons of its choice."

In many quarters, convention leaders asserted the letter "doomed" Wallace. At any rate, it threw the vice-presidential race wide open.

Sen. Barkley was a favorite last week to capture the nomination, but over the week-end the Byrnes campaign gained momentum. The first delegation to caucus—Mississippi—gave its 20 votes to Byrnes. The same delegation, however, ordered its 20 votes cast against Mr. Roosevelt and in favor of Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia for the presidential nomination.

The Wisconsin delegation, with 14 out of 26 delegates present, had its first caucus last night and those present voted to support Wallace. This is the first state group, aside from Wallace's home state of Iowa, publicly to go on record favoring his renomination.

Mild Racial Equality Clause in Platform

By WILLIAM THEIS

CHICAGO, July 18 (INS)—The 1944 Democratic platform, it was reliably reported today, will include a "mild" declaration for racial equality—a concession to Negro demands and a departure from original plans to avoid this critical issue.

On the domestic side, the platform drafters were understood to be heading toward final approval of these additional points, which were said to have had White House approval.

Provision for tax incentives to encourage and make possible new enterprise.

Elimination of inter-state and interregional trade barriers.

Discontinuance of wartime federal controls as soon as possible when peace comes.

Business pledges to extend credit to small enterprise, apply war-developed technologies to postwar industry and utilize war veterans in the peace-time era.

Assurance to labor that its right to collective bargaining will be protected.

Larger Potato Crop In State Predicted

State and federal commerce departments today predicted a slight increase in Massachusetts' potato crop this year. The state's 25,000 potato-seeded acres—approximately the same amount as planted last season—should yield 3,625,000 bushels on the basis of conditions July 1, it was reported. Last fall the state harvested 3,375,000 bushels.

The Bay State's commercial apple production is estimated at 1,968,000 bushels "as compared with a 1943 harvest of 2,228,000. Some 1300 acres of orchards will be harvested this year, but because of the May 7 dry spell, the yield is expected to be below average.

FDR Won't Serve Again, Friend Says

By ROBEY PARKS

Copyright, 1944, Illinois Publishing and Printing Co. The Chicago Herald-American

CHICAGO, July 18—Franklin D. Roosevelt will not serve a fourth term as President and, if re-elected, plans to resign in favor of his running mate within six months, a White House intimate disclosed today.

He said the President's health has been declining for two years and physicians have warned him to give up the rigorous duties of Chief Executive at the earliest possible date.

My informant, a western senator who asked to remain anonymous, is one of the leaders in the convention battle to unseat Henry Wallace and nominate an old line Democrat for Vice-President. He said:

"Mr. Roosevelt is eager to return to private life. His intimates are aware of that desire. So the Hopkins-Ickes-Frankfurter clique has prevailed upon him to install Wallace as his successor.

"The bitter convention fight over the vice-presidential nominee centers on the question whether New Dealism shall be perpetuated or true Democrats shall regain their birthright."

The senator, a frequent visitor at the executive mansion, wanted it made clear that he personally favors a fourth term for President Roosevelt. He said the vast majority of the convention delegates feel the same way, but he explained:

"It has been common knowledge in White House circles that Mr. Roosevelt's health rules out all hope of him serving another four years in the Presidency. The condition of Roosevelt's health has been one of Washington's most closely-guarded secrets, the senator declared. He said the President's ailments have been aggravated by a chronic throat malady and abnormal blood pressure.

Postwar Job Plans To Key Dewey Fight

ALBANY, July 18 (INS)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, today mapped plans for a special appeal to workers and businessmen who are concerned over what will happen when the cessation of hostilities terminates war jobs and war production.

The Governor hopes to convince the country that the Republican party is better equipped to handle the job of reconversion from a wartime to a peacetime economy than is the New Deal.

His first objective is to unite his own party behind a specific program and then to sell that program to the nation. The initial step in formulating such a program has been taken in conferences between the Republican nominee and congressional delegations from four New England states.

It will be developed further, July 31, when Gov. Dewey goes to Pittsburgh, center of the steel and coal industries, to confer with Republican members of Congress and with labor, business and agricultural leaders from Pennsylvania and near-by states.

The Pittsburgh visit will be made as a stopover of the Governor's trip to St. Louis, where, on Aug. 2 and 3, the Republican nominee will confer with the Republican governors of 23 other states.

Gov. Dewey was asked if he expects to talk with John L. Lewis, head of the Mineworkers' Union, or Philip Murray, head of the CIO, while in Pittsburgh. He replied he does not know yet all the persons he will meet there.

Fire Perils Huge Douglas Plant

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP)—The administration building at the $33,000,000 Douglas Aircraft plant in Park Ridge was destroyed today in a fire which threatened the huge factory, which builds giant C-54 cargo planes.

The fire was brought under control after more than two hours. The big factory was only slightly harmed. Damage was estimated at $1,500,000.

Col. B. M. Value, district intelligence officer of the Army Air Forces, said preliminary investigation disclosed no sabotage evidence.

Navy Commends 2 For Rescue Attempt

Two Greater Boston youths, one of whom gave his life, have been commended for courageous efforts to save the life of a civilian laborer trapped in a sump tank at the Newport Naval Training Station, it was announced by the Navy Department today.

The posthumous citation went to Henry Hale Cameron, Jr., then 18, of Chandler rd., Medford. The other went to Thomas Henry Cavanagh, then 17, of Pierce ave., Dorchester.

Driving Licenses Show Increase

More Bay Staters are driving automobiles this year than last, according to Registrar Goodwin. During June, there were 7420 original driving licenses and 141,083 renewals issued, compared to 4221 originals and 140,059 renewals during June a year ago.

Hub Marine Hero at Saipan

The lessons he learned in the conquest of Tarawa served PFC Paul W. Aronne of Osceola st., Mattapan, in good stead when he came across a Jap demolition patrol near Garapan, Jap strong-point of Saipan.

His alertness and courage were credited today by the Marine Corps with breaking up the patrol and preventing destruction of valuable ammunition stores.

According to an Associated Press dispatch, Aronne and PFC William F. Cochran of Miami, Fla., spotted the four-man Jap patrol less than five yards from their foxhole.

Aronne fired twice at the Japs as they dashed forward. The Jap officer was hit but kept on toward the foxhole and Aronne bayoneted him as he lunged in a desperate attempt to kill Aronne.

Aronne's gun was wrenched from his grasp by the Jap's charge and PFC Cochran killed the enemy with a Jap saber he found several days before. The rest of the patrol was routed by shots from Marines.

Aronne, a former employee of the Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Aronne.

Plan to Question Mrs. Higginson

With elimination of a Connecticut convict as a suspect in the mysterious assault on Mrs. Frances Lea Higginson of Cogswell, Vt., police today were hopeful that the victim's condition would improve sufficiently soon to permit them to question her and obtain a new lead in the baffling case.

The suspect who was cleared is Marion Kerski, one of five men who escaped from New Haven County Jail shortly before the socially prominent Mrs. Higginson was severely beaten.

Mrs. Higginson, who remained in a coma for 17 days after the assault, is reported at Deaconess Hospital here as improving.

Soldier's Icy Swim Wins Silver Star

T-5 Joseph C. Howell of Taunton has been awarded the Silver Star for courageously battling icy waters, holding in his teeth a wire to complete communication lines between company headquarters and a platoon across a river.

The War Department announced the Taunton infantryman dropped the wire from his chattering teeth the first try and on the second was swept downstream. He was making a third try when his commander ordered him to the rear for dry clothes and a rest. Instead, Howell rejoined his outfit for immediate attack.

Expect Penicillin To Save Bear Victim

NEW YORK, July 18—Roosevelt Hospital doctors today gave Catherine "Cappy" Searles, 24, daughter of a wealthy zinc manufacturer, a 50-50 chance for life today after penicillin was applied, following amputation of her right arm, mangled by an infuriated polar bear.

Meanwhile, the tragedy which occurred when she and three companions visited Central Park zoo after a Stork Club party, was blamed by police on "inexcusable treatment of animals at night in hot weather."

ADMIT TEASING THE BEAR

Dr. Adrian Lambert, who said he was banking on penicillin to save the girl's life, announced Miss Searles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Malcolm Searles of Rahway, N. J., would arrive at the hospital today from Lake Placid.

Police said the four had admitted teasing the bear. The animal which attacked Miss Searles was Soc, a 900-pound polar bear. Zoo officials said he had always been well behaved.

Police said Miss Searles was accompanied on the zoo visit by Cpl. Edward Cheney of Manchester, Ct., on furlough from Camp Shelby, Miss.; William Chick of Commonwealth ave., Boston, and Miss Gertrude Brady, daughter of Henry Brady, New York city auctioneer.

AMPUTATE NEAR SHOULDER

Cheney waved his garrison cap through the cage bars and Soc knocked it from the soldier's hand with a swipe of its huge paw, police said. The men recovered the cap with a stick.

Miss Searles, investigators said, climbed over a three-foot guard rail and waved a handkerchief. The enraged bear struck swiftly, grasping her arm, then gnawing it from fingertips to elbow.

Tobin's Train Mishap Probed

NORTH ADAMS, July 18—Railroad officials today launched an investigation into the nearly fatal accident at the depot here when Mayor Tobin of Boston, Democratic nominee for governor, narrowly escaped death when he chased the Chicago-bound Democratic convention special after it started without warning.

The mayor and Mrs. Tobin had alighted to greet a reception committee at the station when the train stopped to pick up Berkshire County delegates to the convention. As the mayor was about to address the group the train started unexpectedly and he pushed his wife aboard before the doors closed.

Woman Jailed In M'Grath Case

Swaying slightly but otherwise showing no emotion, Mrs. Bertha Pina, 39, of Scituate, pleaded not guilty in Abington district court today to a charge of being an accessory after the fact in the murder of little Frances McGrath.

She was not represented by counsel and Judge Daniel H. Shea, after conferring briefly with Asst. Dist. Atty. Robert G. Clark, ordered her held in $25,000 double surety and continued her case until July 25.

She was taken to Plymouth Jail, where Jack Lopes, 55, Scituate carpenter and war worker, with whom she allegedly admitted to investigators yesterday she discovered the girl's body three days before the finding was reported to police, is being held on a similar charge.

MOTHER GREETS WOMAN

The dramatic turn in the case came yesterday when Antonio D. Cardozo, counsel for Lopes, turned over to Dist. Atty. Edmund R. Dewing the information he had obtained both from his client and Mrs. Pina regarding their finding of the body on June 13 in a Northwell grave, three days after the child's disappearance from Scituate Harbor.

Mrs. Pina was brought to the court from Norwell State Police barracks, where she had been confined overnight.

As she was brought from her cell at the barracks, she was greeted by her mother, Mrs. Louisa Alves, and talked briefly with her.

"Tell him to help me. I need him," she pleaded with her mother. She was referring to her husband, Justice Pina, a railroad worker, who confronted her last night at the barracks.

At that time, in response to her heartfelt plea, he strode from the place angrily after saying: "You didn't stick by me. I'll leave nothing to do with you."

The mother and Mrs. Pina's sister, Mrs. Josephine Roderick of Jenkins st., Scituate, attended the court session, sitting in the third row of a four-bench tier. Mrs. Pina's husband was not present.

NEW SUSPECT SOUGHT

Meanwhile, investigating authorities were pushing their hunt for the actual slayer of the child as a result of evidence gained in questioning Lopes and Mrs. Pina.

They expect to question both of them at the Plymouth jail, but refused to discuss the immediate trend of the inquiry other than to say the attention of investigators was turned to a new suspect.

Medical authorities, standing firm in their conviction the ill-fated daughter of former City Councilor John McGrath of Dorchester had been dead only 36 hours before the finding of her body June 16, believe the girl was alive but unconscious when Lopes and Mrs. Pina first saw her.

Lt. Nolan Killed; Captured 1000

Relatives today awaited details on the report that Lt. William L. Nolan of Chelsea, one of the outstanding heroes of the war and a former swimming champion, had been killed in action on the Italian front.

News of his death was received in a telegram by his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Nolan of Bassett st., Chelsea.

Nolan, who persuaded an Italian colonel to surrender 1000 troops in key positions in Sicily, was holder of the Distinguished Service Cross for this exploit. He also had been decorated with the Silver Star and Purple Heart.

Big Ships Soften Guam for Fall

By Associated Press

Heavyweights of America's new Pacific fleet have turned their guns upon Guam, which after 13 consecutive days of air and sea bombardment appeared ripe today for rescue from the Japanese who seized it five days after Pearl Harbor.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced last night that battleships Saturday joined the continuous assault on this island, in the same group with Saipan. The big ships' rifles poured explosives on gun emplacements, softening up the enemy's defense preparations in a possible prelude to a landing. Cruisers and destroyers added their firepower.

On Sunday carrier planes reared in to blast anti-aircraft installations. In neither attack did the enemy offer real counterfire. The Guam attacks started July 4, shortly before Saipan fell to give Adm. Nimitz a stepping stone to the Philippines and Tokyo.

Repercussions of the Saipan victory shook Japanese Navy Minister Shigetaro Shimada out of his important job, which was taken over by obscure Adm. Naokuni Nomura. In Rome there were diplomatic reports that Japan was in a mood for peace on certain terms.

Tokyo radio followed with a broadcast saying the report was groundless.

Tokyo conceded Saipan's fall, saying it believed its entire garrison had been wiped out.

In the Southwest Pacific Japanese were trapped on New Guinea, probed into Allied positions and were turned back, Gen. MacArthur announced.

MacArthur's planes sank one merchant vessel and damaged four others in forays near Halmahera, big island west of New Guinea and south of the Philippines. They hit Yap island also, depositing 65 tons of bombs and wiping out eight of the 16 enemy interceptors with a loss of two big bombers.

In bitter fighting for Hengyang, Chinese troops repulsed increasingly heavy Japanese forces trying to take this key rail city in a drive to divide China.

U. S. medium bombers supporting the Hengyang defenders started 75 big fires in a heavy raid on Changsha, Japanese-held city to the north of Hengyang. It is a major supply base for the enemy offensive.

Tojo Begs Japs End Mikado's War Fears

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—Premier Hideki Tojo, recounting the loss of Saipan, declared today "the real war is yet to be fought" and appealed to the Japanese to "set the mind of his imperial majesty at rest." Tojo confessed himself "moved by great trepidation by the thought that deep anxiety has been caused" the Mikado.

This broadcast followed upon an imperial headquarters announcement that all Japanese resistance on Saipan had come to an end; that the entire garrison of the once-powerful Japanese base had been wiped out, and that among those slain was Vice-Adm. Chuichi Nagumo, supreme commander of the Saipan area, and his two chief aides, Lt. Gen. Yoshitsugu Saito and Rear Adm. Takahisa Tsujimura.

Tojo's statement, read to Japanese home and empire listeners, advised them that "Japan has come to face an unprecedentedly great national crisis."

"Two and one-half years have elapsed since the declaration of war and during this time our imperial forces have conducted military operations on a grand scale everywhere," Tojo said. "The 160,000,000 of our countrymen have overcome hardships of every kind."

"However, our enemies, the United States and Britain, especially the United States, have since gradually increased the intensity of their counter-offensive and have at last advanced into the Marianas."

"The situation now approaches when opportunities will occur to crack the enemy and to win victory. There is only one road upon which we must advance—the road to victory. The real war is yet to be fought."

"Let us one and all renew our faith and our determination to make the supreme sacrifice and thereby set the mind of his imperial majesty at rest."

Another broadcast said V. Adm. Nagumo had died in a fatal charge. "In a ceremony together with his men, he emitted a little bowl of sake donated by his majesty the emperor and, shouting 'banzai' three times, rushed into the enemy ranks with drawn sword."

The broadcast added that during the final assault, 3,000 Japanese wounded "died by their own will."

Germans Kill 33 More Airmen

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—German captors have shot 33 more Allied fliers, Sir James Grigg, war secretary, told Commons today.

Foreign Sec. Eden announced on June 23 that 50 captured fliers had been shot by the Nazis.

Sir James said in 27 of the new cases, the men were alleged to have been shot while attempting escapes.

What your Anthracite dealer thinks about in summer

Nor about baseball — or fishing — or picnics! Not this year! No, through this man's mind day and night run only thoughts of mining — distributing — delivering more hard coal!

He knows that whatever our fortunes of war, there will be a continually increasing demand for Anthracite because of wartime needs and a drastic national shortage of all fuels. He knows that the Anthracite Industry, strained by manpower and other shortages, still managed to take out 6,000,000 more tons last year than before the war, with 18,000 fewer miners. And that with middle-aged miners (over half aged from 45 to 65) working to capacity on a six-day week, their aim is to hold this record if humanly possible.

He knows that he is the key man in this war emergency — responsible for allocating local supplies — getting you your share of this war-precious heat next winter. No wonder all he can think about is coal . . . coal . . . coal!

Of course, you're backing him up and giving him every assistance

• You got in your Government Declaration and order for 87½% of your normal year's needs early. (Or will do so instantly.)

• You've arranged to accept summer deliveries as he can make them ease the flow for vital needs next winter. (Under government regulations he can deliver only 50% of your requirements before October 1st.)

• You've asked him for the Anthracite Conservation Folder and are taking its suggestions seriously for fixing up your equipment — so that you can keep warm on what you will receive under the government regulation. (Incidentally, far more than for most other products.)

Let's share fair and play square so nobody goes cold.

Halsey's "Oscar" Joins Calif. Zoo

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 18 (AP)—Oscar, one of the world's rarest birds, has arrived at the San Diego zoo from New Caledonia—with a naval escort to keep him from getting homesick.

Wan and weak from his long journey, the Kagu bird stepped wearily into his new home, a shaded, secluded cage, and settled down to a diet of meat, fish and frogs—with earthworms for a chaser—in an effort to regain his strength.

The bird was presented to Adm. William F. Halsey by the government of New Caledonia, and will become a companion to another Kagu bird, a zoo resident for 17 years.

Mrs. Bella Benchley, executive secretary of the Zoological society, says the Kagu is a connecting link between the crane and the egret, and adds: "They are very nocturnal and hate the sun."

Alan Dinehart, Film Actor, Dies

HOLLYWOOD, July 18 (AP)—Alan Dinehart, 43, film actor, is dead here of double pneumonia.

His wife, Mrs. Mozelle Britton Dinehart, and two sons survive.

Death of the actor-producer, author occurred in Hollywood Hospital after a two-week illness, climaxed by a heart condition. He rallied yesterday and his wife, an actress and songwriter, held hope for his recovery.

Dinehart, a former Broadway actor, left the stage to become a screen player in 1931. He also took up radio work where his last appearance was in a dramatization of how he encouraged his wife to take up songwriting after her screen career had been curtailed by an auto accident.

Dinehart had been identified with the theater since early days of vaudeville.

Private funeral services have been arranged, followed by cremation.

Two Brighton Fires Probed

Two Brighton fires, which broke out within a few minutes of each other and resulted in a rush of apparatus from all parts of the city, were under investigation today.

The first blaze, in a 28-apartment house in Egmont st., drove 50 residents to the street, including a three-year-old girl ill with chickenpox. The youngster, Joy Krantz, was carried out through smoke-filled hallways by her father, Lester. Damage of $1000 was confined to the rear basement.

Three minutes later an alarm sounded for a fire in a vacant three-story building on North Beacon st., owned by the Moskow Realty, Inc. The fire was confined to the first floor. Damage was estimated to be $300.

FBI Joins Probe Of Prison Riots

The FBI today was probing a list of Fascist homes in Boston where former Italian prisoners of war have been entertained and many of them converted once more to the tenets of Mussolini.

This is the startling disclosure made at a meeting of the South Boston Citizens Ass'n where members derided coddling of members of the Italian Service Unit and demanded they be reclassified and treated as prisoners of war.

Charles T. Brooks, historian of the association, told protesting residents of the district that much of the rioting at Camp McKay has been inspired by Italian-American Fascists. He said details would be released within a few days, upon completion of an FBI probe.

Another meeting is scheduled for Friday to hear reports of their protest to Mayor Tobin, Gov. Saltonstall, the state's two U. S. Senators and Cong. John W. McCormack, a South Boston resident.

Army authorities who attended the meeting contended scantily clad bathing girls, who chat and toss love notes over the fence to the men, are greatly to blame for the unrest among the prisoners.

Q—My husband was awarded the Purple Heart which he lost upon returning to the States. Is there any way he can replace it? D. C., South Dighton.

A—If your husband has a copy of the order on which he was awarded the Purple Heart he may purchase the ribbon at most military stores.

Q—Does every boy in the armed forces have to take out National Service Life Insurance? G. E., Wellesley.

A—No. It is not compulsory; the matter is left entirely to the individual concerned.

Q—A member of my family was killed in action serving with the Army in Italy. Would appreciate if you would explain the six months' gratuity pay, and who receives it? S. A. C., Salem.

A—Payment of six months' gratuity pay is made first to the widow of the soldier; if there is no widow, then to the child or children of the soldier. If there is neither, payment is made to the dependent relative of a service man whom he had designated as beneficiary.

If he did not designate a beneficiary, the fact of dependency is determined by the Secretary of War and paid to one relative of the soldier in the following group and in order: grandchild or parent, brother or sister or grandparent.

Q—What grades must a soldier be within for his wife to be eligible to receive care under the Emergency Maternity and Infant Care Program? Mrs. R. A. C., New Bedford.

A—Under present regulations the ranks include Pvt., PFC, Cpl., T-5 Sgt., and T-4 Sgt.

Soldiers Overjoyed At Leaving Iceland

By HUCK FINNEGAN

INFANTRY UNIT, Northern Ireland—Most of the Bay Sters in this crack mid-west division are youngsters out of high school, who joined it within the past year. There are others, however, who are tried and true veterans.

Pvt. Raymond Courchaine, 28, of 747 River st., Haverhill, enlisted in the Army Oct. 18, 1939, and was stationed at Ft. Custer, Mich. He already has been overseas 30 months, having landed in Iceland Dec. 23, 1941. "If I was coming of a white Christmas, I got it." He spent 20 months in that wind-swept land and hasn't seen home in three years.

He likes nothing better than to see old pals like Howard Denby, whom he met in Ireland a few months ago. "He told me Jim Mansfield was very sick. That's too bad."

OUT AGAIN, IN AGAIN

Courchaine is quite different from Pvt. Harry Schultski, 34, of Kingston ave., Haydonville. Schultski is a former weight lifter who spent 17 months in Iceland, didn't like any part of it, "and I'll tell it to a general." He was in the Army in '41, was discharged with the over-28 group, was called back in after Pearl Harbor.

"I'll tell you one thing," says Schultski vehemently, "the post exchange stores ought to sell liquor. The doc-faces paid $20 to $40 a quart in Iceland (censored). Couldn't afford the $40 he had to resort to the bootlegging cabbies who charged $10 for 'black death.' Drink it and you turn black."

"Even here in Ireland they soak you $15 a bottle. That's too much for a fellow getting $60 a month. The post exchange ought to ration liquor, as it does cigarettes and candy."

ONLY SAW ROCKS

PFC Frank Juliano, Canal st., Lee, didn't get to hate Iceland like Schultski because he was there only six weeks. "But all I ever saw was rocks." Juliano was a millwright in Lee in his pre-uniform days.

Corp. Michael J. Turillo, 26, of 177 Bluff ave., Edgewood, R. I., spent 17 months in Iceland, but didn't go hut-happy. "I worked in headquarters," he smiled.

Which is much better than working outdoors in a gale. Turillo admitted the winter was rough, with no shows, no mail ar-ring. "But the chow was excellent, and a fellow could save plenty of money if he didn't drink."

Turillo doesn't drink. He was a crack all-round athlete at Colt High, Bristol, and had completed three years at Providence College when Uncle Sam called. "I hope to become a teacher-coach," he said.

He used to receive the American through the Red Cross, he said, but wasn't getting it lately. He's been in the service exactly three years, most of it overseas. He has a young sister, Phylomano, a cadet nurse at Taunton.

His buddy is Pvt. Thomas S. Robertson, now of Detroit, who lived in Beverly until '36 and quarterbacked Steve Paton's Beverly High eleven in '37.

The 24 hours of daylight didn't bother him too much. "It made guard duty easier," he said. Nick worked in the warping department of the Pacific Mills before the war.

PFC James H. McCormick, Jr., 23, whose parents live on Rock ave., Pascoag, R. I., spent only a few months in Iceland and didn't get a chance to get fed up. He'd like to swing into action so that he could get home to see wife Elvira and child Jim, 24, whom he never has seen. "Look at him, five months. Isn't he a buster?" Jim's brother Edward, 21, is taking part in the Italian campaign.

Fight on Ragweed in Full Swing, With JVA Leading

The Battle Against Ragweed is on in full fury, with boys and girls throughout New England, spearheaded by the Junior Victory Army, hunting out and destroying this vicious foe of physical fitness.

Called to arms, with last Sunday as D-day, these young troops have as their objective the total destruction of the whole fortress of ragweed which annually causes so much agony and expense to hay fever sufferers and victims of asthma.

Now is the time to find ragweed and eradicate it. It is a branching plant with fern-like, thin and much-cut leaves growing to knee height. The stems and leaves are solid green.

TEAR IT OUT NOW

About Aug. 5 it carries the yellow flowers, set on a spike which produces pollen. This pollen is swept into the air by winds, bringing untold misery to those who are allergic.

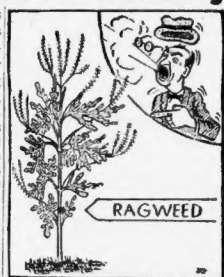

By finding it now, before it blooms, and tearing it out by the roots and tramping it or burying it, boys and girls will be doing as good a job as our front line soldiers are doing against the Nazis and Japs.

WIDELY BACKED

The campaign has the endorsement of health authorities, Arthur T. Burger, executive director Boston Boys' and Girls' Clubs, O. A. Kitterman, executive, Boston Council, Boy Scouts, and Massachusetts 4-H Clubs through Earle H. Nodine, assistant state leader. "The State 4-H Club office at Amherst heartily endorses the campaign for the destruction of ragweed," said Nodine.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Wednesday's Daily Record.

aimlessly, most of them wearing bloody bandages, until they were evacuated.

The steps of one Red Cross emergency hospital were red with blood.

John Miller, area coordinator for the Office of Civilian Defense, said 200 civilian wounded had been counted so far. These included 50 seriously hurt.

K. E. Knapp of Hayward, a railroad man atop a boxcar one mile from the blast, said he saw what looked like a "mule-high skyrocket—red and white."

"Then came a terrific blast and it seemed like star shells were filling the air. Small pieces of metal from the exploded ship began falling all around," he said.

FEARED JAP ATTACK

Most of the residents of Port Chicago and Martinez said they feared the explosion heralded a Japanese air attack on the naval installation.

Jesse Anderson, office manager of the Port Chicago naval ammunition depot, said each ship had a crew of 50 to 70 men aboard. In addition, two divisions of Negro soldiers were working on the dock loading ammunition. Each division would have, he said, some 150 to 170 men in them. These figures total a minimum of 400.

"When they went down there to get them," Anderson added, "they only brought two back alive."

Seaman 1c S. P. Scott of Washington, D. C., treated for blast injuries, estimated 600 men were killed.

Scott was in the washroom of a building near the scene of the blast.

EYEWITNESS STORY

"The lights went out," he said. The force of the explosion—I don't exactly remember hearing any sound because it was so loud. I guess—just shook the building like a terrible shakes a rat.

"Somehow I managed to get to my feet and I started out the door when there was a second explosion. By that time I was outside.

"I saw the barracks that can hold 1000 men go down. There was the sound of men screaming."

"Then ammunition started going off—I guess it was about the biggest barrage of the war. High explosives, fragmentation shells and everything else was exploding."

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Scott could not remember how he made his way out of the danger area.

"My buddy and I were talking," he told newsmen. "Suddenly an explosion tore down part of the barracks. It wrecked the administration building and the camp was wrecked."

"It happened all of a sudden. We were taken completely by surprise and the next thing I knew there were a lot of fellows lying around, moaning and crying."

Witnesses said the blast sent a huge bolt of flame far into the clear night sky, and then came a concussion so powerful it was felt at San Jose, 50 miles away at the other end of San Francisco bay.

Man San Franciscans thought they had felt an earthquake. The University of California seismograph recorded the shock as of moderate intensity.

At 2 o'clock the chain broadcasting systems were notified by the Navy that further emergency calls were unnecessary and that the situation was under control.

1000-Ft. Flames

MT. TAMALPAIS, Cal., July 18 (INS)—H. M. Steinburg, weather lookout man atop Mt. Tamalpais, 50 miles from Port Chicago, declared today he felt and saw the terrific explosion at the Port Chicago naval ammunition depot.

"Flames shot at least 1000 feet into the air," Steinburg said. "They seemed to mushroom, with exploding ammunition shooting in all directions."

"The impact of the blast jarred the barograph in the station."

In the nearby town of Mill Valley, the windows were blown out of one store.

Man Held on Girl Charge

Bay State Gunner Has Busy Day, 2 Rescues in Pacific

ABOARD A U. S. CARRIER FLAGSHIP OFF THE MARSH ISLANDS, June 26 (AP)—Gunner aboard a "big" bomber, William E. McKenna of Greenville, Worcester, Mass., just completed a busy day in which his plane, one of a seaplane rescued its crew and in turn was rescued by a destroyer which entertained them by sinking a Jap freighter.

McKenna related how the plane was shot down by anti-aircraft fire after bombing Guam and plunged to the sea about five miles offshore. He, the pilot and another crewman, inflated a life raft and got aboard.

"A flat plane from a cruiser picked us up within 15 minutes. The plane it piloted into a one-man mission" and the loaded plane was unable to take off.

"Heavy shore guns opened up on us and we taxied out of there fast. It was a pretty rough ride but we covered about 20 miles in an hour."

They met the destroyer and were hoisted aboard, where the seaplane pilot reported a big Jap freighter in the harbor at Guam.

Obtaining permission from the task force commander, the destroyer skipper slipped his speedy craft right into the harbor, daring heavy shore fire, and poured a lethal hail into the freighter.

"The Jap ship was listing 40 to 50 degrees and sinking by the bow," McKenna said. "After our third firing run only the stern was sticking up and that disappeared soon."

automobile the gray-haired little boxer was found dead.

Baiona said he was one of a group of sportsmen, including Martin, who attended the Ortiz-Pep fight at Braves Field earlier in the evening, according to police.

Inspectors quoted Baiona as saying the crowd had gone to the garage after the fights where Martin was the "stickman" at a dice game. It was understood that thousands of dollars—much of which had changed hands in bets on the fight—figured in the game. After telling of the argument in which the fighter became embroiled, Baiona, according to his questioners, said that Martin said he was "all in" and asked to borrow keys to his machine, parked outside the garage. That was at 3:20 a. m., police said.

Others questioned stated that the man who argued with Martin, left soon afterwards and it is he who detectives are seeking. Police say he is a well-known sportswriter and orders were issued that he be picked up for questioning.

BULLET IN CHEST

The bullet that tore through the victim's chest first sheered off part of a finger, as if fired from directly outside the automobile window. Ballistics experts began a search for the missing slug.

Meanwhile, inspectors investigated the report that Martin and a former gambling partner were at odds over a recent Back Bay raid at a similar game operated by the latter.

Detectives swooped down on the players and it was rumored later in gangland that Pepper had "squealed" on his pal. The raid was staged at a Huntington avenue address only a few doors from Martin's home, it was said.

Martin had enjoyed a colorful and not unnotorious career for more than 25 years—ever since he first attended the rehears of the American colony as a talented and courageous ringster.

SHOT WAITRESS

After a long career of boxing and many squabbles with police, Martin got into his most serious difficulty in 1937 when he shot Anne Morong, 28-year-old South End waitress in the latter's Tremont st. South End apartment. Martin told police the gun had discharged accidentally, but testimony showed he had been hitting over attentions paid the girl.

Found guilty of assault with a dangerous weapon, he was sentenced to serve 18 months at Deer Island House of Correction. He was transferred to Long Island Hospital for medical treatment.

Boston American, July 18—11' but was rushed back to Deer Island after police had been called to quell his one-man riot.

SLASHED WIFE

Only a short time after finishing his sentence, he savagely slashed his estranged wife, Florence, on a South End sidewalk in September, 1939. Thirty-three stitches were necessary to close wounds on her face, chest and arms.

He pleaded guilty to charges in Suffolk Superior Court a month later and was sentenced by the late Judge Frederick W. Fosdick to serve a 2½-year term in State Prison.

Overseas Soldier's Daughter Drowns

WESTMINSTER, July 14—Red Cross officials prepared today to notify Sgt. John F. Rogers of Fitchburg, who is serving overseas, of the drowning of his 13-month-old daughter, Louise, in Wyman Pond. She was staying here for the summer with her mother.

Her body was found at the edge of the pond a half-hour after she had wandered away.

Martin Dies' 'Crimes'

NO MORE VENOMOUS campaign has ever been set afoot against an American who has done a great patriotic service to the nation than the campaign still being carried on against Rep. Martin Dies, chairman of the Committee Investigating Un-American Activities.

The latest "smear" against Mr. Dies is to be found in a book, "Martin Dies," which concludes with the almost treason-smearing phrase, "Heil, Dies!"

The "crime" of Representative Dies is that he has, in the course of his investigations, uncovered scores of these borsch-and-vodka propagandists squatted in fat jobs in Washington and that some of them were "fired" after he took the masks off of them.

He has exposed more fellow-traveling Communists than Fascists and Nazis.

He has done this for the natural reason that there are ten thousand subversive Kremlinites, of all litters and breeds, in the U. S. A. to every single Fascist or Nazi.

The success of Martin Dies and his co-workers on his congressional committee must be measured by the hatred that his revelations have roused.

A great patriot's worth is attested by the kind of enemies he has made.

And Martin Dies has made the RIGHT KIND of enemies.

WHAT ENEMIES of our American way of life will, above all, never forgive Martin Dies for is his celebrated "Red Paper," published on November 27, 1940, at the time Hitler and Stalin were allies.

Then, many of the very persons who today are stoning Dies were engaged in sabotaging our defense efforts in the interests of Hitler, who just then had Europe under his spiked boot.

In that report Martin Dies wrote these patriotic words in regard to the Reds and their fellow-traveling saboteurs employed in our key defense industries:

"We would not for a moment tolerate the uniformed soldiers of the Totalitarian powers working in our national defense industries.

"Neither should we permit their ununiformed soldiers, who are far more dangerous, to hold such jobs, where they are in a position to serve their foreign masters with little or no risk of detection and conviction."

Thousands of these very pro-Hitler underminers of our defenses from 1939 to June, 1941, and their sponsors are today denouncing Martin Dies as an "agent of a foreign power!"

And, again, these Fourth-Term Reds and their fellow-travelers will never forgive Dies for revealing the following ANTI-AMERICAN attitudes and doctrines of the Communist Party and their camp-followers in the "Red Report"

"The Communist Party's supreme loyalty to the Soviet Union.

"The Party's ultimate reliance upon civil war as the weapon by which its ends are to be sought.

"The Party's rejection of the democratic parliamentary form of government.

"The Party's concentration of its effort in the basic and war industries of the country.

"The Party's use of trade unions as schools of Communism.

"The Party's technique by which 'front' organizations are set up and controlled.

"And the Party's basic doctrine of the dictatorship of the proletariat."

Those are the "crimes" of Martin Dies!

MARTIN DIES is a NATIONALIST AMERICAN.

He is a United States American. His Dies Committee represented the CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES for many years. The work of this committee should be PERMANENTLY CONTINUED.

There never was a time when, on the domestic front, it was more necessary to investigate UN-AMERICAN activities. Give your coat-tails a swish, Uncle Sam!

See what's hiding behind their red, white and blue stripes! If Martin Dies' Committee had not crawled under Uncle Sam's coat-tails and dragged these Reds and near-Reds out into the light and if it had confined its investigations strictly to Nazi and Fascist activities, wouldn't Martin Dies be the boy to get the big RED apple from the Stalinists?

CHICAGO, July 18—I am so mad I could cry. In fact I think I will cry—boo! hoo! I am writhing to the point of lachrymosity because an attempt has just been made to shatter my childish illusions.

It happened like this: Shortly after arriving in Chicago—which is a city on Lake Michigan, founded by Mrs. O'Leary's cow—I wandered into headquarters of the Democratic National Convention in the Stevens Hotel.

The place seemed hauntingly familiar and, for a while, I couldn't remember why. Then it came to me.

I used to be headquarters for the Republican National Convention!

"This is an amazing coincidence!" I muttered. "I will bet the Democrats would be chagrined if they knew they are using a discarded Republican layout. I can just see their faces getting red at the knowledge that they are getting Republican leftovers."

I was thinking about this and resolved to be decent and not tell the Democrats—when a fellow with beetling eyebrows accosted me. Beetling eyebrows were soon explained because he turned out to be a beetle.

"It is in the bag for Barkley!" he hissed.

I KNOW it is difficult to hiss "bag for Barkley," but he made it. It developed that he was national hissing champion from 1935 to 1938, having won the title against three cobras and a cracked locomotive. Time, 1:37. Track fast.

He beetled his brows some more, until I longed to spray him with Paris green. He continued:

"Do not go for any of this stuff about Roosevelt attacking his neck out for Henry Wallace. F.D.R. really won't Sen. Barkley for vice president. He knows he can handle him easier than he can Wallace."

"That is absurd!" I said.

"Sen. Barkley cannot be handed by anybody. Why, he created one of the biggest sensations in Washington only last Feb. 23 by openly denouncing the President for vetoing the two billion dollar tax bill."

"In fact he resigned as majority leader of the Senate rather than be dictated to by the President."

The eyebrow-beetle gave me a stare.

"You are a chuckle-head," he said.

"Flattery won't win me over," I retorted. "I happened to be up in the Senate when Barkley denounced the President and he was very stern about it. He said that if Congress had any respect left it would override Mr. Roosevelt's veto and enact the tax bill into law."

"And," I added, "the tax bill was passed and Sen. Barkley resigned majority leader."

"Oh," said the beetle, "then he is not majority leader?"

"Well, as a matter of fact he is," I said. "But he was out for nearly 24 hours. And he only came back because the other Democratic senators insisted upon it."

"But of course," prodded the beetle, "he remained on the outs with President Roosevelt!"

Naturally, they never spoke to each other again!"

"The President apologized," I explained. "Senator Barkley is not a man to hold grudges, so he accepted the apology. They are on speaking terms again."

"And how!" said the beetle.

I STARTED to tell the fellow that he did not need to go around bleating "and how!" But he interrupted:

"Are you so naive as to really believe Roosevelt and Barkley were fighting that time? Why, that was a water act!"

"You are a foul-mouthed scoundrel!" I said hotly. "Do you mean to imply that it wasn't on the level? Why on earth would they do such a thing?"

To obtain just the results they have achieved. To impress in the minds of the voters that Senator Barkley thinks for himself and can never be dominated."

With Barkley as running mate, the New Deal can go before the electorate and say that it is obvious Mr. Roosevelt has no dictatorship leanings—that, if he had, he would have picked a supine creature as his vice-presidential candidate and not a rockbound stalwart itching to fight with him at the drop of a hat.

"They can say 'Barkley will never be a rubber stamp. He has demonstrated this. He will be a constant check on the President—and the future of democracy will be assured!'"

"That's what they can say!"

THAT IS WHY I am so mad I could cry. I detest these dirty cynics!

THE ROBOT PLANE bombing has no military objective. Only the desperate, barbaric and insane Nazis would resort to such a type of warfare," so states a commentator. They were no Nazis in Germany during World War One. Yet the Germans used a death dealing weapon over which they had no control as to where it might hit. That was the Paris gun, sometimes erroneously referred to as "Big Bertha." On March 23, 1918, a shell from this gun hit a church in the heart of Paris, killing seventy-five persons and wounding ninety. Most of the victims were women and children attending Good Friday services.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: "So you say no woman has ever been mayor of a major city in the United States?" Asks a Seattle subscriber, "Bertha K. Landes was once mayor of Seattle." (Very interesting. Will have to check on Bertha's administration). "Nancy Coleman is the first woman picture actress in Hollywood history to become the mother of twins." As for the Eve of Eve of Eve played under lights, L. M. Christian says it was at Lebanon, Pa., in 1888, between the Lebanon and Lancaster teams of the old Tri-State League. Mr. Christian is prepared to wager Pittsburgh is wheeling stogies that he is right.

PLEASE NOTE: Why do Englishmen prefer dry cigars? I would just as soon chew up a brown as bite into a dry cigar. . . . You see women driving buses, street cars and trucks, but you never see a female riding a motorcycle. I wonder why. . . . Some sportscasters are saying Twilight Tear is "the greatest race mare of all time." Ridiculous. How about Imp? How about Colonial Gray, which defeated the great Hermies? It is fairly in Twilight Tear's power to judge the extent of her cleverness. Wait until she meets the best of the handicapped horses.

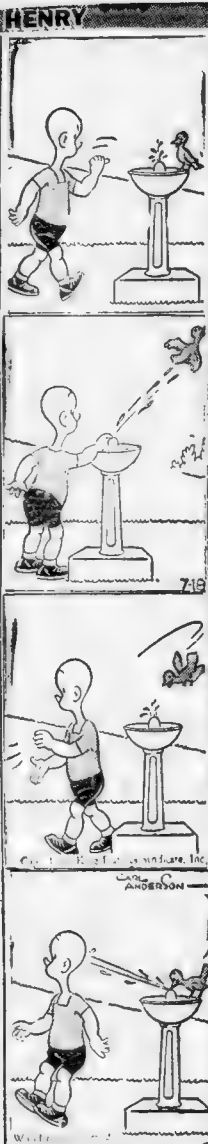

DIET: George Barnard Shaw eats no fish, flesh or fowl. His diet consists of butter, milk, honey, eggs and apple juice. He neither smokes nor does he drink alcoholic beverages. Many people claim the procedure accounts for the 84-year-old Shaw's longevity. I believe it is only a contributing cause. Shaw's extremely active mind is something to do with his living to such a ripe old age.

PLEASE NOTE: Seems there is hardly anything the producers of Greer Garson's pictures won't do for her. Greer stated she was tired of appearing in long-skirted costumes and wanted a scene in which she wore short skirts so people would see she wasn't bow-legged. So the producers gave her that scene in "Timber Harvest" where she did a dance in kilts. Recently Miss Garson said she would like to have more changes of costume in her next picture. In "Mrs. Parlington" she has 39 changes of costume. Just goes to show how hard it is to refuse anything to a woman with red-hair and green eyes. I know a fellow who has a red-haired, green-eyed wife and she has three milk coats.

MAIDS AND COOKS: Housemaids will be plentiful in 1946. So claims an employment expert. Maybe so. But good domestic workers will probably be still hard to get and hard to keep. The dizzy socially-conscious type of female will have to eliminate petty snobbery from her relations with domestic employees. She must do a cook of the future will have to be treated in the same way businessmen treat office employees.

Let 'Chemical Parasol' Protect You

By RUTH MUGGLEBER

DAILY IN THE GREAT research laboratories of the world . . . scientists and chemists are discovering exciting facts about ways of holding youth of the skin for longer periods of time. It begins to look as though we might possibly eventually defeat the grim appearance of old age . . . and view no more its "sere and yellow leaf."

On one thing everyone is in agreement . . . it is urgent to start early in life to use the best protective and preventive measures available. So much smarter than attempting to lock the door after golden youth and beauty have vanished.

Unprotected exposure to the broiling mid-summer sun is one of the quickest and surest ways to age your face. Scientists generally agree that this dries out the natural oils of the skin . . . encourages premature fine lines . . . and "speeds up the life cycles of the cells to such an extent the skin hastens to grow old."

"CHEMICAL PARASOL"

Our grannies knew this . . . and, although they overdid the layers of clothing . . . they did the best protective job they knew at the time. But rapid strides have been made in our generation in now, scientific knowledge of both beauty and health. And, as one beauty pioneer so succinctly puts it . . . use a "chemical parasol" before venturing forth into the sun . . . a reliable, proven preparation that filters the damaging rays of the sun . . . and prevents their working havoc on your face.

Whether you plan to soak up your vitamin D at the seashore . . . the mountains, or your own back yard or terrace . . . prevent, burning, blistering and drying of the skin with "chemical parasol" that is truly a protective liquid sunshine. Greaseless you can put it on your face, throat, arms and legs in comfort and good grooming . . . whether you're wedding in the garden or basking at an exclusive beach club. And, what's of special, special goodness . . . is that mosquitoes are allergic to this liquid sunshine . . . and will shun you when you're wearing it . . . leaving you in complete and incomparable comfort.

You Need a Good Breakfast

By MARTHA LEE

A GOOD BREAKFAST does something for you. It is often your passport to a successful day. Coffee and toast—or a bun or doughnut, do not make an adequate breakfast. For a better breakfast, add cereal and milk or an egg and pancakes. Pancakes? Yes, pancakes are good and nourishing food.

One of the wisest of daily health rules is to start every breakfast with a glass of fruit juice. Then eat the other breakfast foods you like—cereal, milk, eggs, and your good breakfast will do something for you.

CORNMEAL GRIDDLE CAKES

1 cup cornmeal
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 egg, well beaten
2 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup shortening, melted
Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine well beaten egg and milk and stir into dry ingredients. Stir in shortening. Add more milk if necessary to make a thin batter. Bake on both sides on ungreased hot griddle. Makes about 18 cakes.

EGGS IN THE SHELL

Cover eggs completely with cold water and bring gradually to simmering (just below boiling). Do not let the water boil. For soft-cooked eggs, simmer 3 to 5 minutes. Serve in an egg cup, to be eaten out of the shell, or if desired break hot into the cup; season.

Another way to soft-cook eggs is to bring water to boiling, put the eggs in carefully, and take the pan off the stove at once. Cover pan to hold steam, and let the eggs cook in the hot water 5 to 8 minutes.

POACHED EGGS

Break eggs in a saucer and slip into gently boiling, salted water—enough to cover the eggs—in a shallow pan. Bring to simmering, remove from heat, and cover. Let stand about 5 minutes or until eggs are as firm as you want them. Remove eggs carefully and serve on toast. Add salt and pepper to taste and, if you like pour a little fat over them.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS

1 cup sifted flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup milk
1 cup blueberries
Mix and sift flour, baking powder, and salt, add blueberries. Cream shortening, add sugar and cream until fluffy. Stir in well beaten egg. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk, beating well after each addition. Bake in greased muffin pans in moderately hot oven (325 deg. F.) about 20 to 30 minutes. Makes 18 small or 12 medium muffins.

A cup of blueberries added to the contents of a package of your favorite ready-mix will produce the same result.

Bootees With Pajamas

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE makers of lingerie for girls who are getting ready to go back to schools and colleges plan for the girls to sleep with their bootees on this winter.

The most exciting and practical sleeping pajamas are equipped with bootees so nobody acquiring an education has to have cold feet in bed this winter.

Miss Dulin has sketched a model for you. This one-piece pajama is made of flannel, and comes in plain color and printed patterns. The bootees are of the same fabric and are attached by ties that go around the ankles, over the ski-trouser cuffs of the pajamas. The collar and pockets of the shirt top are trimmed with narrow fringe, and there is a tie belt at the waistline.

Through the Binoculars

By HORACE WADE

Tomorrow is Massachusetts Handicap Day, the tenth running of New England's richest stake... over the weekend Massachusetts Handicap starters swarmed down upon the seaside course, among those checking in being Alquest, Ramilles, Alex Barth, Four Freedoms and First Fiddle... They came from New York to try to win the $50,000 prize, but the conclusion was a few locals who will attempt to add the 50 g's to their own record.

It was a bit of disappointment when Alquest failed to accompany Alquest to East Boston... it was to have been a red hot team to capture the big race, but when Rieler turned up a bit indisposed it was decided to permit Alquest to carry the white man's burden alone... he will have Jack, by George Woolf in the saddle, which enhances his chances considerably... his place in the Puert starting gate may likely be taken by the Belair Stud's Bossuet, and the addition of this four-year-old to the field would be a distinct shot in the arm to the race.

Already a remarkable band of post paraders, only Bossuet needed to make it the pre-eminent field of the year to date... Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons reportedly told friends he would take a whack at the Massachusetts with the colt, but no verification is forthcoming from Gotham.

Crack Jockeys Here

The lineup of jockeys for the $50,000 classic is just about complete... the starting field shapes up in this fashion: First Fiddle, J. Longden; Four Freedoms, E. Arcaro; Alquest, G. Woolf; Alex Barth, E. Guerin; Castlemore, G. Moore; Ramilles, G. Seabo and Conard, H. Trent. Among the doubtful starters are Bossuet, J. Stout; Great Rush, A. Snider; Dinner Party, C. Chaffin; and Incoming, G. McMullen... with all net proceeds of the week helping to swell the National War Fund and American War Charities, together with the Record-American-Advertiser Disabled Veterans' Fund, everyone is pulling for a fast track and sunny skies... that is, nearly everyone... the sole exception is H. H. Miller who owns Incoming, and who will start his de luxe runner only in the event of off going... Incoming has one eye peeled on his rivals and the other on the sky.

Very few Massachusetts Handicap fields will have been any classier than this 1944 renewal... you need to go all the way back to Seabiscuit's run in 1937 to find a comparable race... Whirlaway "made" the race in 1942, but there was not much behind him... the Wednesday renewal finds every single member of the band with some sort of chance, and it's difficult to pick an overnight post-time favorite... better give that post of honor to First Fiddle, winner of five consecutive handicaps a little earlier in the season, and starting top weight under 124 pounds. One of the year is due to see the big race, and there is a possibility new betting marks may be set... the demand for box seats has been extensive, and there will be only a few reserved seats for the public, with the major part of the grandstand thrown open to early-comers... this is as it should be.

With one starter the net value to the winner will be $42,850, a tidy nest-egg for some stable... incidentally one of last year's winners was Don Bingo 2nd, pulling no very lame in the running... the horse ran a few days before a career claiming race at Coney Island, W. Va.

Pete Fox Leads American Loop

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals held first place by a three-point edge in the National League batting race today, but Pete Fox squeezed past team mate Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox to take over the lead in the American loop after 13 weeks of action.

Dixie Walker of Brooklyn closed in on Musial who lost 12 points during the week but the Cardinal outfielder had the edge on total hits, 103 to 107, with each at bat 305 times. Phil Weintraub of the New York Giants trailed the leaders in third place with 339. Figures included games of July 16.

Doerr skidded 13 points down the ladder, permitting Fox to take a two-point margin with his 329 average. The Red Sox right fielder, now playing his 12th big league season, never has come close to the hit title although his lifetime average is .298.

Thurman Tucker of the Chicago White Sox held third position at 320 and spent the weekend on the bench.

Dazzling Pep Conquers Ortiz in Fine Display

By JACK CONWAY

Willie Pep made it 75 wins out of 76 starts as he won the Battle of Champions from Manuel Ortiz in a ten-round bout before 12,000 persons at a Callahan A. C. show at Braves Field.

It was Pep's blazing speed, marvelous boxing ability and sharp punching that enabled him to conquer the stout hearted Mexican. When it was necessary for Pep to rally in the last two rounds to make certain he would gain the decision, he looked the part of a champion. He finished the bout with fists flying and increasing his lead.

This writer gave Pep six rounds, Ortiz three and called one even. Pep had the margin in the first, second, third, fifth, ninth and tenth sessions.

It was Ortiz in the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds, while the fifth session was even.

The decision of Referee Johnny Martin and Judges Joe Blumsack and Jimmy McCarron was unanimous. Pep had proved he was master of the bantamweight king.

While Ortiz was defeated, he made a gallant fight. Not once did he give ground to the featherweight king during the ten rounds. In the sixth, seventh and eighth chapters, Ortiz forced the battle at such a blistering pace he had Pep seeking shelter on the ropes and in corners. In those three rounds, Ortiz scored with smashing blows which shook Pep up. Once Ortiz drove Pep half way across the ring with a stinging right-hand punch to the side of the head, he dropped to his side as he fell back. If the Mexican could have moved forward more quickly than he did, he had a perfect opening for a well directed blow.

The only knockdown was scored by Pep in the first round. He caught Ortiz with a left's right-hand blow to the jaw while the latter was off balance. Ortiz dropped to the canvas, but he was on his feet without a count and fighting at a furious pace.

BATTLE OF MASTERS

It was a battle between master ring craftsmen, and at times lacked the spectacular. The Ortiz surge in the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds, and the Pep rally in the last two frames caused the fans to forget some of the dull periods earlier in the contest.

During the first round as Pep piled up points by his speed and clever boxing, he didn't take a single chance. He had been warned against Ortiz' terrific punching power, and he kept his jaw well out of range.

At close quarters, Pep held Ortiz so as to prevent the latter from cutting loose with his Sunday wallop.

One of Pep's best punches was a sweeping left hook which he delivered with amazing speed. He also got considerable power behind this blow.

The first three rounds saw Pep piling up a commanding lead by his fine boxing. Ortiz did better in the fourth session when his aggressiveness enabled him to hold the featherweight champion even.

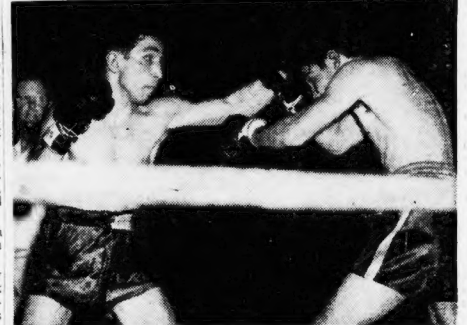

Pep moved out front once more in the fifth round. In this session, Ortiz electrified the crowd when he banded a right-hand punch to the jaw that had great power behind it.

Tommy Farmer turned Ortiz loose in the sixth round. The little Mexican chased Pep around the ring and shook him up with hefty punches to the head and body. The Ortiz surge continued right through the eighth round. It looked as if Ortiz could pull the bout out of the fire.

In the ninth round, Pep sensed the fact he had to rally to win. He boxed at a terrific clip, and in the latter part of the round tossed left and right hand punches from all angles. He had Ortiz bewildered at the going.

In the 10th round, Pep continued his rally and once more outscored his opponent.

Pep weighed 127½ pounds, Ortiz 127. It was evident Pep can

PEP REALLY TOO GOOD

There is not a featherweight who has a chance to win from Pep. The champion will have to move into the lightweight class to get real competition. In the history of boxing there never has been a champion who has been more consistent than Pep.

Jimmy Mulligan's long winning streak was halted when he was stopped by Earl Lowman of Washington in five rounds. Mulligan weighed 178 pounds, Lowman 215. Jimmy found it is impossible to spot an experienced heavyweight like Lowman 27 pounds and win.

For three rounds the Lowell boxer outscored Lowman. At long range Mulligan was master of the slow-footed Lowman. In the clinches, Lowman was able to score with some thumping blows.

The big difference in weight began to tell on Mulligan in the fourth round. This session went to Lowman who scored with heavy blows to the head. In the fifth round, Lowman dropped Mulligan for a count of nine with a savage right to the jaw.

Jimmy was in poor condition when he regained his feet and was soon knocked down again. Mulligan was in a helpless condition when he hit the canvas, and Referee Ed McDonald wisely halted the contest.

Veteran Cobb Shows 'Em How

SEATTLE, July 18 (AP)—Another 10,000 fans know why Ty Cobb became one of the fan's favorite major league outfielders of all time.

He gave a batting demonstration and an exhibition of his speed in breaking for first last night for the benefit of the servicemen's athletic and recreation equipment fund.

The veteran Cobb was puffing at the end of his stint, but he showed he still had considerable speed. A Hollywood-San Francisco combination swamped a Seattle-Portland lineup, 7-1, in a North-South Pacific Coast League exhibition.

Browns, Yanks Meet In Important Series

By Associated Press

Toss out the Detroit Tigers and you'd find the New York Yankees way out front in the American League and the leading St. Louis Browns scrapping to stay in the first division.

The Tigers rest in a fifth place tie and have made only occasional sports toward the head of the class, but they have been "cousins" to the Browns while casting the evil eye on the McCarthy clan.

As Luke Sewell's men and the New Yorkers, the 1-2 clubs of the junior loop open an important four-game series tonight in St. Louis, after an open date in both big leagues, the Browns' two-game edge can be credited to the Tigers and their pitching team of Hal Newhouse and Dizzy Trout.

WON ONLY THREE GAMES

In 14 starts against the leaders, Detroit has won only three, but they have had the 1943 champs a natural, beating them 7 to 11.

Chicago also has been rough on the Yankees, but easy for St. Louis and a positive pushover for the Boston Red Sox who go into tonight's game with a record of 10 straight victories over the Pale Hose.

Of the four current members of the first division, the Yankees are the only team to play better than 500 ball against top row opposition.

In the national, the Cardinals have the drop on every other club including a 11-0 bulge on the Chicago Cubs although Charley Grimm's charges have bounced out of the cellar and are only four games out of the first division.

CARDS GOOD AS 'HOME'

With an 11-game edge on both Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, the Red Birds have little to fear despite the loss of George Mauer and the impending departure of Stan Musial. Billy Southworth has uncovered another starter in "Bink" Donnelly who went the route to beat Cincinnati first time out.

Elmer Ray Scores

His 14th Straight KO

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP)—Recovering from a first round knock-out, squat Elmer Ray, Los Angeles Negro heavyweight, scored his 14th straight kayo by stepping Colton Chaney of Indianapolis in the feature bout at Marigold Gardens last night.

Hugh Mulcahy's Old Wing O. K.

MEMPHIS, July 18 (AP)—S-Sgt. Hugh Mulcahy gave his leathery right arm a flip and said, "The old wing's as good as new," yes, sir, I think she'd be ready to go right now.

The strapping Philly righthander was the first major league ball player to be drafted into the present Army—that was March 8, 1941. Now there's his answer to talk that the boys in the service are going to find it hard to do business at the same old stand after the war.

"It's been more than three years now," remarked the 31-year-old former National League star, "but as for my arm, it's as good as it ever was."

"Sure, I've missed that regular war kum training. But I pitched a little with the second Army this spring, you know. I found I still had all my stuff, hadn't lost any of my speed and control."

Mulcahy said he couldn't agree that Army routine—maneuver and what not—was likely to throw pitching muscles all out of skelter.

"I don't think any of the fellows will have to worry about that," he declared. "Unless he gets injured in some way, a ballplayer should be able to get in the groove right away."

Mulcahy said while his pitching arm was as good as ever, the same couldn't be said for his "wing." Condition, he said, would be the only worry in the player's rehabilitation.

"I'll take us time to get in shape," the sergeant asserted, "and that means that the pitchers will have a tougher time in their comeback than the other guys."

Second Division Cubs Draw Well

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP)—The drawing power this season of the Chicago Cubs, never out of the second division and most of the time in last place, continues to astonish fans and baseball officials.

The Cubs, in 33 days at Wrigley Field, attracted approximately 400,000 fans, as compared to last season's attendance of 510,000. The team, currently in sixth place, has 30 more playing days at Wrigley Field.
